Graduation Trivia

Why do graduates throw their caps in the air to celebrate? This tradition traces its roots back to the commencement exercises of the United States Naval Academy class of 1912.

The term mortarboard comes from the bricklayer trade and hearkens to the shape of the hawk a mason uses to hold the mortar as he sets his bricks in the structure. The hawk is a flat board with a handle underneath and the flat top of the graduate's cap takes its nickname from one of this traditional trade's most important tools.

The song performed as graduates process into the venue is called Pomp and Circumstance. This song was written as a piece in a military march composed by Sir Edward Elgar in 1901.
